01. Market Commentary

DSEX ended in green for the week increasing by 66.28 points [1.30%] compared to the previous week. It stands at 5179.18 points.

The index was up in all of the trading days of the week, albeit there were marginal single digit increases in some trading days. The investors capitalized on shares which provided better than expected earnings results and some were keen to take long positions in December ending scrips ahead of their corporate declarations. The investors' enthusiasm stemmed from declining trend in inflation and treasury yields potentially signaling a possibility of an upward market movement.

Investor participation increased this week as reflected by increase in average daily turnover by around 26% causing the average daily turnover to rise above BDT 400 Crore level. Investors' trades in this week focused on Bank scrips followed by Textile and Pharmaceuticals scrips. In terms of sectoral returns, the Financial Institutions sector posted the highest gains of 4.90% while the Jute sector shed the most with 3.11%.

Market capitalization stands at USD 55.2 Billion*.
